Dear Mr. Mirabile:

By vote of the Scarborough Zoning Board of Appeals on September 8, 2010, your request for a six month extension on your approval to construct a new transmission line in the center of the existing right of way has been granted.

According to the Scarborough Zoning Ordinance, Section IV. K. and Section V., your rights granted by this appeal shall expire if the construction or commencement of the use is not begun within six months of the date on which the approval was issued. The ordinance allows only one extension.

Very truly yours,
